APPLICATIONS FOR US JOBLESS AID FELL TO 332,000

The article is about the reduction in the US jobless aid applications. The count fell to 332,000 which is an all time low. The drop indicates the strength of job market and also the drop in the layoffs. As per the report, the job market seems to be improving slowly and steadily. It is also good to hear that the unemployment rate has gone down to the four year low of 7.7 percent.
