

EUROPEAN CAR SALES IN MAY HIT 20-YEAR LOW

The European market for automobiles has been sluggish lately, recently reporting a twenty year low point in sales. In the last five months, sales have decline a whopping five million vehicles. Even in Germany, where it has been a strong market, lately is showing declines. The recent woes of the European union are undoubtedly to blame. For more details on the article Click Here

<https://blog.granted.com/>