

DESPERATE ON THE INTERNET

I am probably in the same situation as millions of other people trying to earn a reasonable income by working from HOME. I have been trying all the programs, I could afford, reading the Guru articles, following the instructions of many programs with plans on how to earn on the internet with very little success.

I would like to first give a brief description of myself, family and desperate financial situation. I retired from a large communication company 8 years ago with the hope and dream of living a comfortable retirement. I live in a beautiful area in Michigan's Upper Peninsula with little traffic (other than tourists), beautiful and scenic views of nature (the beautiful forests, scenic Lake Superior, fall colors, winter's beauty, and lots of wild game), the best people in the world (the type of people America was built on) and a beautiful house. I have a wonderful and loving wife who works at the local university. I have 2 sons living and trying to earn a living in 2 large metropolitan areas. I was able to get them both thru college, 1 with a master's degree and just recently married and the other with a undergraduate degree which I hope will lead to success in their lives. I have 2 loving Golden Retrievers who are my daily companions. It sure is a wonderful picture of what retirement should be.

Now to my desperate situation! My income because of inflation (it really is there) began shrinking about 5 years after my retirement. Like many of you we just kept living the same lifestyle that we had become accustomed to. Then the expenses really increased, college costs soared, gas prices soared, food prices soared, wedding expenses, 2 graduations, a very ill mother in-law 1000 miles away and many other unexpected or planned expenses. My first answer was to take money from my retirement and pay the off the expenses, I like to owe no one. This bought me a couple of years but expenses just kept rising just kept rising. Next step, put expenses on credit cards. We kept getting by but began changing our lifestyle. I was finally forced to make the decision that I had to go back to work. Now the problem, the area we live in has one of the highest unemployment figures in the nation, decent paying jobs are very hard to find and I am 60 years old. What do I do? Go to work for Wal Mart, McDonalds at a minimal paying job or try I find something else. These jobs don't even cover the costs of working. No this was not the way to go, I'll start my own business on the internet where fortunes are made daily. Having lots of time and getting desperate I jumped in with both feet. I made a few dollars in several month's worth of work but not a livable income. What next? Well I decided I must be doing something wrong so I had better look for help. I began signing up for the Guru's super how to programs with little to no success. Next I started joining some of the programs on the internet promising to show you how to make money on the internet. What a mistake, all I found is a great way to send people a lot of money. I believe the Guru's never give you the complete truth and the wonderful business opportunities just want to keep taking your money. At this point I would like to say I did get to know 2 wonderful people who do want to help people. 1. Is Ray DeGrendel of founder of OSI, a company that truly does want to help the average person start a Home Business at a low cost but it is a very slow process. If interested you can get more information at my website <http://osi.homebiztruth.com?4679> 2. Is Jason Williamson, an individual who has gone out of his way to try and assist me with getting going on the internet but he to is just starting the learning curve, you can get more information about Jason and the program he's involved in at <http://successblueprint.biz/?id=LeadsToSuccess>. Both of these people are worth knowing!

I am now at the point I cannot meet my monthly expenses and seeing my life crumble before me. I am sick and tired of seeing, I was in foreclosure and couldn't meet my payments until I did this. Join now it only costs 100's and even 1000's of dollars to join and then all they want you to do is spend more on advertising, autoresponders, mailers, etc. Most of them you can't even find out how to contact. My question is how did they come-up with this kind of money when they had nothing. I am now at the point where I believe they are all scams. I feel like I am beating my head against a brick wall.

If anyone out there knows of a way to truly earn an income on the internet with hard work and no money, I would love to hear from you. I am desperate but willing an able to work on a program that allows you to earn your way to living. I am not looking for any, work 2 hours a day and make thousands programs. I want a program that is pay as you go and you do receive payments from your efforts. I now spend 12-14 hours per day on the internet. You can email me at gdesperate@gmail.com.

You can visit my homemade website at <http://www.businessonastring.com> to see my 2 Golden Retrievers and see some great HEALTH PRODUCTS.

I will update this article with any information I receive and I truly wish all of you in this situation the best of luck. I know there are millions.
