

KANOSIS IS GOING TO LEAD THE HOME BASED BUSINESSES ONLINE

Kanosis is going to be the next big thing and a revolution on the internet. It combines the power of Google, Yahoo, MySpace and Skype. Powered by state of the art Java based software, COIL, it brings you a versatile range applications and seamless services that connect global community members in a secure internet environment. At one place it gives you an opportunity to communicate, share, transact and do internet based home businesses irrespective of your skills.

COIL integrates web mail, video mail, instant messaging, multimedia, calendar functions, and basic business applications. Its most notable feature is that you can upload your entire hard drive to a secure server. Essentially, it makes your own computer, accessible anywhere in the world.

The world is a giant network of networks kanosis powers you to take hold the wonders of this giant network. It welcomes everyone, irrespective of age, sex, religion and race to be interconnected in a secure global platform. To become one global community. It brings together your most commonly used communication tools, internet applications, and software functions in one simple interface.

The Coil internet operating system runs on top of any desktop OS -- Windows, Linux, or Mac -- and connects you into a secure and private environment... so you can enjoy the freedom of operating your own world.

Kanosis is going to be the next big thing and a revolution on the internet. It combines the power of Google, Yahoo, MySpace and Skype. Powered by state of the art Java based software, COIL, it brings you a versatile range applications and seamless services that connect global community members in a secure internet environment. At one place it gives you an opportunity to communicate, share, transact and do internet based home businesses irrespective of your skills.

COIL has been under development over the past 6 years. So, it has become as much human as it is technological. It is easy to use and gives a rewarding experience.

The Kanosis marketing model is a hybrid of recent Internet success stories such as Google, Skype and My Space and the 55-year-old network marketing industry.

Today, the world is moving very fast. You are always at rush. You have a business to run, clients to interact and deadlines to meet! And you need full-proof security and fast access to information. Kanosis addresses all these requirements. Kanosis allows you to play hard, work easy and outperform in your online home based business.

It is really a big deal for a little price.

Kanosis has enhanced the viral marketing techniques like never before to overcome the traditional inhibitors to success by:

1. Providing you with all the sales tools including your own website and a state-of-the-art promotional Flash movie optimized to do all the selling for you.
2. Minimizing your time involvement and using the full potentials of the internet as your marketing medium.
3. Being affordable, price is just a few dollars.
4. Providing powerful software at a great value.

Not just hypes here is the list of applications you get with COIL.

- Email Address
- Personal Web Space and Web Site
- Multi-Media Mail
- VOIP Telephony
- Chat
- Email Manager
- Auto-Updating Contacts
- Workspace Collaboration
- Avatar Mail
- Relevance Filters
- SMS
- Contact Histories
- Import from Outlook
- File-Sharing

Kanosis is not one like so many home business hypes. Here at last, is a real opportunity, a real product with promising benefits.

<https://blog.granted.com/>