It's True...Setting up AdSense sites is not rocket science. But you need to do it the right way and what you need is for someone to show you how. I have listed some of the quick tips about earning incomes through Adsense. Basically, you will need to : Blend your ads and appeared as part of your web content. You could easily achieve that through the use of the background, border and text color. Use multiple ad units. According to Google's TOS you are allowed to post up to three ad units per page. Place the advertisements wisely. Don't inundate your visitors with advertising, but make them prominent enough to be noticeable. You will also need to position the ads with the highest CTR, as high as possible in the page. Normally, the first ads that appear in the pages (in the source's order) get the most income per click. Determine your web site's focus; consider how much the advertisers pay for the advertisements. In other word, you need to know what those high paying keywords are, and customize your website in order to get high paying ads.
