

---

TRAVEL THE COUNTRY WORKING AS A TRUCKER

If you enjoy traveling, why not see the country? You can do this by becoming a truck driver. There are thousands of open truck driving jobs posted on Granted. All truck drivers need to hold a commercial driver's license and must have gone through some sort of training program prior to acquiring a job. Truck driving jobs can be very rewarding, especially if you acquire one that pays a high rate per mile. Some of the most experienced truck drivers can expect to make more than $60,000 per year. Doesn't this sound like a great way to view the country? Some of the most popular trucking jobs are the ones that take drivers all across the country. You could start your Monday morning in New York and end your trip a couple of days later in Florida, or Tennessee, or even a week later in Nevada. If you are ready to change careers and do something you love, take a look at the job board on Granted today to browse the thousands of trucking jobs available from coast to coast. The site is completely free to use no matter how many jobs you wish to apply for or view.

<https://blog.granted.com/>