DON'T GET TOO COMFORTABLE-THE WAR AIN'T OVER

Now feels great calmer, joining almost working world again. Thinking. Dump all the job-hunting rituals-scanning daily want ads, talking to anyone within shouting distance about job leads, and networking yourself into a stupor. The battle is won. You can hang up your flak jacket and helmet and put down your weapons. Relax and enjoy your new found security. Stop! Yes, a major burden has been lifted from your shoulders. You did great. But the game isn't over by any stretch of the imagination just because you landed a job. Maybe in the 1960s and 1970s you could have folded up and gotten comfortable and never thought about finding another job. Not in the frenetic 1990s. Read More at EmploymentCrossing
