

THE FASTEST-GROWING JOB IN AMERICA - CNN

The increased application of technology and technological upgradation has resulted in reduction of large number of jobs. To add to the trouble, the ongoing recession since 2007 has resulted in lower pay, as a result people have to work in multiple jobs to "hustle" themselves up. Increased layoffs and buyouts have made entrepreneurs reluctant to start a new business. At the same time, efforts to increase profits by existing companies have resulted in a growing number of temporary jobs than the full time jobs.
