
WAYNE STATE UNIVERSITY CUTS 200 POSITIONS

Wayne State University recently eliminated 200 jobs as confirmed last Friday. But out of those 200 positions only 80 of them were actually filled. The positions were mostly administrative, except for one clinical facility position. The jobs were eliminated due to a $32 million cut in funding for the 2012 fiscal year. This is the largest cut in the history of the university.

Read the original article here:

Wayne State University eliminates 200 jobs; only 80 positions were filled

<https://blog.granted.com/>