

WILL SPEEDING UP VISAS BOOST US ECONOMY?

The recent announcement by the U.S. President that visa processing procedures for foreign travellers visiting US is expected to bring a projected $860 billion in increased economic activity at the same time creating the much needed jobs by more than 1.25 million. The countries that send the largest groups of visitors to US soil are Brazil, China and India. The Global Entry Program aims at easier customs process without in any way loosening the security demands and protection for American citizens.

Read the full article here:

Will speeding visas for foreigners boost economy? Yes: It will create jobs - Sacramento Bee

<https://blog.granted.com/>