

EXCELLENCE AWARD WINNER OWENS AND MINOR HAS A LOT TO OFFER

Summary: Healthcare logistics services may not be on the top of everyone's list to work at, but Owens & Minor is a leader in innovation and service.

Winner of the 2015 HealthTrust Supplier Excellence Award Owens & Minor is prepared to continue setting the path for excellence. The company is over 130 years old, but continues to redefine and reimagine the industry of healthcare logistics services. They have medical supply systems established in the U.S., Asia, and Europe to appropriately manufacture and distribute a variety of high-quality products to medical institutions and patients around the world.

Owens & Minor was founded in Richmond, Virginia back in 1882. They focus solely on providing wholesale drug business to medical and surgical facilities. There are around 5,100 employees working from the corporate office and 55 distribution centers to serve their 4,500 clients, which include hospitals, alternate care locations, integrated healthcare systems, and the federal government.

Click Here to Browse Owens & Minor Job Openings

The company mostly sells items like disposable gloves, endoscopic products, dressings, sterile procedure trays, needles and syringes, surgical products and gowns, and urological and wound-closure products.

Company benefits you can expect are the typical medical and financial compensation plans. You will also receive paid time off for holidays, vacation days, personal days, including your birthday. They also offer a perfect attendance incentive. There is an annual drawing for a new car, one for each region, and cash prizes for those with perfect attendance.

Owens & Minor hires in the following categories: operations, finance, human resources, process excellence, learning and development, transportation, accounting, sales, marketing, customer service, clinical consulting, supply chain consulting, and information technology.

Photo: architectmagazine.com