
TEXAS COMPANY SHUTS DOWN AND LAYOFFS 500 EMPLOYEES, BLAMES EPA

Texas energy company Luminant announced on Monday new burdensome Environmental Protection Agency regulations are forcing it to close several facilities, which will result in about 500 job losses. The company said it has been trying to meet the new standards, but won't be able to do so without closing down several facilities. Read the original article here: Obama EPA Forces 500 Layoffs in Texas

<https://blog.granted.com/>