granted

COMPUTER SCIENCES CORP. BEGINS LAYOFFS AFTER AIR FORCE STOPS FUNDING

Layoffs will begin for the Computer Sciences Corp. in as little as a week's time, brought about by the dissatisfaction of the Air Force with the program. Once employing 500 employees, CSC will now cut down to 300 workers. The program has included spending of close to a billion dollars, in order to transition antiquated technology with more efficient, updated technology.

Read the original article here:

Computer Sciences begins layoffs involving Air Force project