
HR FIRM CERIDIAN TO ADD 200 EMPLOYEES

Human resources firm Ceridian plans to add 200 employees over the next four years. The firm will be relocating to a new site at Braehead in 2011, leaving their current site in Hillington. The Scottish government has agreed to give the company more than £3 million in support. First Minister Alex Salmond, who announced the funding, said: "Ceridian's decision to expand its Scottish operation, which is now its largest centre of excellence in the UK, is testament to the quality and skills of the local workforce and the reputation and strength of staff at the Hillington site." Managing director of Ceridian UK, Doug Sawers, said: "We are delighted with the progress of our Scottish operation over the last three years, which is now our largest UK centre of excellence."
