

DAIMLER AG TO OPEN MICHIGAN HYBRID RESEARCH CENTER

DAIMLER

Mercedes-Benz manufacturer Daimler AG is accepting a state tax break to build a $10 million research center in Washtenaw County to develop hybrid vehicles. The Michigan Economic Growth Authority approved a $7.5 million tax credit for a research & development center near Ann Arbor. The center will employ 223, mostly engineers and technicians. State officials say the facility will generate 454 jobs and produce $16.2 million in tax revenue by 2019.
