BROKEN ARROW TO ELIMINATE 48 CITY POSITIONS

The Broken Arrow, Oklahoma city council has voted to eliminate four dozen jobs, due to a $2 million budget deficit. The 48 positions being eliminated have been vacant for the past two years because of a hiring freeze. No city employees will be losing their jobs, and no layoffs are planned. The council also voted to raise fees for water, trash and sewer service by about $15 per month. Broken Arrow is the largest suburb of Tulsa. The 2007 census estimate showed a population just over 90,000.
