

LABOR PICKETING LAWS DECLARED CONSTITUTIONAL BY CALIFORNIA SUPREME COURT

In what can be seen as a shot in the arm for union members, the California Supreme Court has reversed an appellate court's order that held two state laws that safeguard labor pickets as unconstitutional. By declaring labor picketing laws constitutional, the apex court has really strengthened labor's hand with regard to picketing activities in the state.

Read the full article here:

Calif.: Labor Picketing Laws Constitutional

<https://blog.granted.com/>