

OBAMA'S NLRB NOMINATIONS - FOR SENATE TO CONSIDER

President Barack Obama will nominate five new National Labor Relations Board (NLRB) members for the consideration of the U.S. senate. This comes after the U.S. Court of Appeals' decision that Obama's previous recess appointments to the NLRB are invalid. Two members from the Republican Party and three from the Democratic Party will be considered. For more details on the article Click Here Looking for Government jobs? Click here.
