

LAYOFFS HIT LOGITECH AS THE COMPANY REFOCUSES ON MOBILE ACCESSORIES

As the Company Refocuses On Mobile Accessories layoffs hits Logitech. This alignment will save Logitech approximately $16 to $18 million in operating expenses this year alone but requires a workforce reduction. Bracken P. Darrell said that as we align the organization with our strategy to become a faster, more profitable company, we have also created opportunities to become more focused. On January 1st, 2013 Darrell became Logitech's CEO, succeeding De Luca. This will be an opportunity for hardware start up to fill the void. Read the full article here: Layoffs Hit Logitech As The Company Refocuses On Mobile Accessories Looking for job in various field? Click here.

<https://blog.granted.com/>