

I NEED A JOB IN CHARLOTTE NC-HOW DO I FIND ONE?

You will be amazed to know that only a fraction of jobs applications are accepted online. The reason is attributed to the global meltdown.

Thus, if you are desperately seeking for a Charlotte NC job, then you might reconsider sending generic CV's online. You need to diversify the way you search and apply for Charlotte jobs. An ideal way to do so is to utilize the following channels:

1. Career fairs: Career fairs are good venues where in you can find various job providers that may be interested in the skill sets that you possess. No matter how technical/non technical your skill sets be, you are sure to find an opportunity there.
2. Networking: This is yet another way to secure a job. Firstly, through networking you may be able to know about a job requirement even before it is shared online. Secondly, an internal reference may give you an edge over the rest.
3. Direct mail: If you can send across direct mailers to HR executives/ recruitment ids, it will provide you with a better chance to succeed. Direct mailers are always considered in a good light.
4. Job boards: Lastly, you may browse and apply through the jobs that get posted on the internet. Though, the percentage of success is relatively less, but you never know!

<https://blog.granted.com/>