

ELIMINATE THE HASSLE OF FINDING A JOB WITH GRANTED PREMIER

Grant yourself permission to succeed

No one may have told you that finding a job is a job in itself. Whether you are unemployed or underemployed, getting further in life requires finding a job that is just the right fit. You might not have a job right now or you might work a job that you simply do not enjoy doing. As you look for that real dream job, you might end up dealing with a lot of dead-end leads.

You get excited when you see a position listed and spend time applying for it, but then you don't hear from the employers. After not receiving any type of response, your optimism about finding the right job might be dwindling as you become even more discouraged.

If you have grown tired of the search, Granted Premier is an option that will help you save your time and energy while achieving the results that you have hoped for since your job search first started. So what will Granted Premier do for you? They will come up with the perfect job-seeking strategy that is personalized just for you and the specific jobs that you would like to get.

The strategy is not the only thing they will help with. They can work on an updated resume with you while helping build your professional presence on popular social media networking sites, such as LinkedIn, where you can make professional connections with potential employers.

If you would like to feel prepared for your next interview and you want to make sure that you are on the right track when you send in your resumes to different employers, Granted Premier is a service you can rely on while transitioning and pursuing a new career.

For a total of $2,495, you will receive the entire benefits package, including assorted sessions with a career counselor and submissions of your resumes to tons of potential job matches.
